

BSA Troop 413

April 8th, 2018

Court of Honor

Inside this Issue

- Gabrielino Trail Backpack
- Rifle Shooting Trip
- Point Mugu Backpack
- Joshua Tree Trip
- PV Dayhike
- Evan Zhao's Eagle Projects

Gabrielino Trail Backpack

The Gabrielino Trail was a magnificent work of God himself. Our scouts traversed through forested areas of beauty that were like a living painting. The troopers slept cozily through a night of freezing temperatures. Everybody enjoyed the trip as they walked through the works of God.

Rifle Shooting Trip

Big scouts and little scouts alike went on the Firestone rifle shooting trip. They had a wonderful time learning how to use a firearm and the safety rules for guns! Nobody seemed to get injured either, so even better!

Point Mugu Backpack

The Point Mugu backpacking trip was a chilly one, but definitely a fun one. Our scouts walked among the clouds and on the mountains to reach Point Mugu. It was definitely quite the trip because the view from up high was simply stunning!

Joshua Tree Trip

One of the most popular and well-known trips, the Joshua Tree trip was definitely a memorable event. The scouts powered through freezing and boiling temperatures alike. Yet they were all still happy to go rock climbing and hiking! Nobody got injured and everybody got to enjoy the wonders of God's creation.

PV Dayhike

The PV Dayhike was a test of willpower and leg power for many scouts. They walked 12 miles through Palos Verdes for 7 hours total, and ventured through plazas, neighborhoods, mustard plant fields, and steep hills. Nearly everybody was tired after the hike, but nobody seemed to have any regrets.

Evan Zhao's Eagle Project

Evan Zhou's Eagle project was a huge success. The scouts worked exceptionally hard to spread out mulch and plant various flowers. Plus the pizza tasted pretty good too.

(See other side for pictures)

